CANDIDATE

FATHER DARKLEAF

By The Editor

JAMES F. BYRNES

James F. Byrnes, former Secretary of State, U. S. Senator and War Mobilizer, has announced that he will be a candidate for Governor of South Carolina.

There are a lot of things that soon is the word that many of us ever hear about. In many cases we re just as well off. Betimes, we ass much that would be worthwhile r us to know.

Your editor has to do a lot of ading, because that is part of his b.

I have just added several daily ewspapers to my already heavy st. Among the new additions, there s the Boston (Mass.) Post. Quite a ovel paper; think I will like it.

My first copy of the Post came Tuesday of this week. That wa, the morning after the big robbery in Boston, so I rather expected lots of headlines about that. And there were big headlines all right, about as big as I've ever seen in a paper. But, believe it or not, the big headlines were about a Revival Meeting in Boston.

The lengthy news story, accompanied by 3 and 5-column pictures, told of 15,000 people having jammed the famed Boston Garden Monday night to hear the final sermon of a revival conducted by the Rev. Billy Graham. And over 10,000 more were turned away at the doors! Imagine 26,000 people out to hear a sermon! The revival had been going on for three weeks, and better than 5,000 had attended each night. But the closing nigh set the record. There were 2,500 in the choir, and at the end of the service, 3,000 came forward to make a profession of faith. Some three pages of the Post were given to telling about the revival. Rev. Billy Graham, is a native of Charlotte, N. C. He is a Protestant evangelist, and apparently a very successful one.

Can America have gone to the dogs completely, where there is evidence of such spiritual activity? We think it is a better world than most of us realize!

Perhaps that one news story was worth the price I paid for a subscription to the Boston Post.

F B I Agent Led School In Burglary Study

Participated in jointly by State Police Troopers and officers, and the county and town police of Appomattox County, Town of Appomattox and the Buckingham County sheriff's office, an FBI directed Study School was held here January 16, 17 and 18.

An agent of the FBI conducted a three-day course in burglary investigation. Every angle of solving this particular type of crime was studied and the best and most effective techniques put into use.

To make the study more practical the FBI agent set up a simulated burglary problem and had the police work out its solution.

The course was intensely practical and enabled police in this area to gain the benefits of a study under the highest quality guidance.

High School Chatter

Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. Here is the up-to-the-minute news from A. H. S.!

The first year Spanish students are being initiated into the Spanish Club this week. They have to be slaves of the second year students until Friday, when the final initiation takes place.

The Monogram Club met last week to discuss plans for a community square dance they are sponsoring to raise funds. Various committees were appointed by the president, Sam Ferguson.

The basketball teams played at Bedford Friday night. The boys were outclassed by a powerful Bedford team. The girls lost a hard-fought game, 37 to 36. The teams will play Phillips Secretarial College of Lynchburg Thursday night at Concord. The teams have made steady improvement, so Thursday night should see two good games.

The Senior elected their Hall of Fame this week. The results were as follows:

Best Looking, Joyce Christian, Lew's Harvey.
Best All-Around, Virginia Carter, Dick Marks.
Most Intellectual, Helen Lane, David Ferguson.
Most Popular, Joyce Christian, Sam Ferguson.
Most Talented, Faye Wood, Byron Babcock.
Most Courteous, Gwendolyn Shuford, David Ferguson.
Best Actor and Actress, Faye Wood, Byron Babcock.
Cutest, Eulelia Robertson, Harold Stratton.
Friendliest, Rebecca Rush, Charles Harvey.
Most Bashful, Maxine Fergruson, Vernon Beasley.

Much progress has been made on this year's annual, The Traveler. Eight pages were sent to the publisher in December, and sixteen more are to be in by the 25th of this month. The cover has already been selected and designed. No one but The Traveler staff will know what the cover is like until the annuals are distributed in May.

There will be a canteen party on Friday night, sponsored by the Spanish Club. A large crowd is expected since we haven't had a canteen party since December 20th.

Everyone is going around with a worried look this week. The explanation could be mid-term examinations.

—Adios, amigos.

WANT PICTURE OF McLEAN

The April dedication of the McLean House at old Appomattox, is getting nearer and nearer. There is much planning to be done. Here is an example of the problems facing committees working the event:

Does anyone have a picture of Wilmer McLean, the man for whom the Surrender House is named? Thus far the publicity committee has been unable to locate a picture of McLean. A picture of McLean would aid in the forthcoming publicity. This is just one example. But time is getting short.

390 Miles Of Secondary Road In Appomattox

As of January 1, 1950, there were exactly 390.17 miles of secondary highway in Appomattox County, the State Highway Department reported this week.

A breakdown by types showed that 49.82 miles are hard-surfaced; 123.33 miles have a heavy all-weather surface of stone, gravel or other material; 147.17 miles are lightly surfaced; and 69.85 miles are non-surfaced.

The tabulation was made in connection with a reclassification of secondary road mileage which will be indicated on the 1950 county road maps which the highway department is currently preparing.

The county roads are part of the State's 38,856-mile secondary highway system, composed mostly of farm-to-market, RFD and school bus routes taken over by the State under the road law of 1932. They are identified by route numbers of 600 or more.

In addition to the county's secondary mileage, there are 60.33 miles of primary highways in the county. These routes are part of the State's network of interecity and interstate highways.

A comparison of the county's secondary system in 1950 with 1932, when the roads were taken over by the State, tells a story of road improvement progress. Records of 1932 show that Appomattox had had gone 370 miles of secondary highway, of which 0.0 miles were hard surfaced; 133 miles surfaced with local material, 113 miles graded or conditioned and 124 miles unimproved.

March of Dimes Campaign Gets Started Here

T. DeWitt Evans, campaign director for Appomattox County for the annual March of Dimes drive, this week put the campaign into high gear aimed at raising the county contributions before the deadline of January 31.

The March of Dimes fund for the Infantile Paralysis Foundation, seeks its quotas during the period of January 16 to January 31.

Judge Joel W. Flood is Distributor of the March of Dimes Banks.

Plans For Getting New Tank Into Use

Lots of water is going to be pumped in Appomattox in the next three weeks. Here is the schedule, as the town prepares to put its new 100,000 gallon new water tank into use:

As we go to press this Thursday, the new tank is being filled. Pumps from both the old and the new town wells are being used. When the new tank is filled, it will be checked for leaks. In fact, that is the purpose of this first filling, to check against leaks in the newly installed tank. None of the water from this first filling will be released to customers. Pressure might be affected, but the water customers get will come from the old tank. A series of new check valves controls the flow between the two tanks.

After the new tank has been made leak-proof and shown to be watertight, it will be drained. Arrangements have been made to run off this 100,000 gallons through a new and special fire hydrant.

When the tank is empty, it will be painted and chlorinated by skilled workmen.

When that is done, the big tank will be filled a second time with 100,000 gallons of water. But none of this water will be released to consumers either. Instead, it will be emptied again, as before.

After final chlorination, the tank will be filled a third time. After this filling, it will be checked by Virginia health authorities. They will make exhaustive tests of the water, and when they give the green light, the big tank will swing into use.

All in all, consumers should be using water from the new tank in about three weeks.

One word of caution is issued: the greatly increased pressure may reveal leaks in household plumbing! If so, the leaks should be reported and repaired.
